The Katsuyama Vintage bottle Aged for 30 Years

Originally brewed specially to compete in the Annual Japan Sake Awards, the sake has been aged slowly over 30 years stored at -5 Celsius.

SENDAI TANSU

Sendai tansu (chest of drawers) have been beloved down through the ages, from the days of the powerful samurai Daté Masamune and his wealthy domain through to our present day. They are known for their artistic elements of beautiful lacquerwork and gorgeous metal fittings, combining high functionality and artistry. Sendai tansu beautifully embody the elaborate, distinctive craftsmanship of the passionate artisans who make them.

Wood working woodwork artisan creates elegant wooden cases with time-honored techniques, making subtle adjustments based on estimations such as how much the wood will expand due to humidity and the thickness of the lacquer. They are works of true master craftsmanship.

Lacquer working

Lacquer artisan first meticulously carry out several processes to prepare the wood for lacquering. They then apply the lacquer with expert skill, bringing it to a beautiful, uniquely complex finish.

Chase working

Hand-embossed metal ornamentation by chase artisan. Metal fittings and ornamentation embossed with bold, intricate patterns are mounted on the stunning lacquered cases, and the result is breathtakingly beautiful. Peony is symbol of prosperity. Each case has been engraved with the year and serial number.

Crave "KILIN" on bottle

The KILIN is a legendary sacred beast in Asian mythology that is said to appear as a harbinger of good things to come. It is also said to be a symbol of happiness that brings about days of peace and tranquility.
